

Center for Hearing and Communication Introduces

Sounds FUN!

For a Lifetime of Listening and Learning Success

Sounds Fun! is an innovative, fun program designed to help children (ages 4 to 7) with listening challenges develop pre-literacy skills. Kids will love it because the focus is on fun. You will love it because your child will be learning techniques and developing skills that will make him/her a better listener for life.

- . Listening in a group
- . Phonemic awareness
- . Sound discrimination
- . Early literacy

Sounds Fun! is presented under the leadership of Lois Kam Heymann, Director of the Auditory Processing Center at the Center for Hearing and Communication. An authority in the field of listening, learning and auditory challenges, Heymann is author of The Sound of Hope: Recognizing, Coping with and Treating Your Child's Auditory Processing Disorder.
