

Trying to keep up with conversations in noisy restaurants can diminish the fun. Try these tips to increase everyone's enjoyment.

- When making a reservation, request a table in a corner, away from the kitchen or entrance and seek out good lighting
- Keep your party on the small side, if possible or if a large group, request a private room
- Consider going at a less busy time or find a quiet spot at www.soundprint.co/quiet-lists
- Request lowering volume or turning off the music or large TV screens
- Encourage everyone to speak one at a time and one topic at a time.
- Try speech to text apps to transcribe the conversation in real-time such as Otter, Ava and Google Live Transcribe (Android only)
